Hoodlums Trail Reds In India Food Riots

CALCUTTA (AP)—Violence erupted in south Calcutta again tonight.

Communist-led food rioting Tuesday resulted in seven killed and 30 injured from police fire.

The riots today were believed by police to be hoodlums who had taken over what started as a Communist-inspired student protest against high rice prices.

Deutsch Report Proposes 20c Boost in 2 Years

A new formula aimed at settling the 8½-week-old coast logging strike was made public today, but first reaction left doubts as to whether it would result in an agreement.

The developments, in capsule, were:

1. Report of government mediator Dr. John Deutsch after two weeks of discussions with the union and operators proposed that the $1.72 basic wage of the loggers be increased 20 cents an hour over two years.

This is eight cents more than the companies had agreed to pay, but less than the 12 per cent (21 cents) the International Woodworkers of America asked for in one year.

NOT "JUSTIFIABLE"

2. First reaction by employers' leader John Billings, president of Forest Industrial Relations, was that the proposed 20 cents boost over two years was "higher than the industry could consider justifiable," but that the proposal would be submitted to the FIR individual companies.

3. Union chief Joe Morris was non-committal in a short statement issued shortly after the Deutsch report was made public, but will similarly submit the new formula to IWA members through the union policy committee.

Dr. Deutsch suggested the first 10 cents increase be made effective June 15 this year, with a further 10-cent boost June 15, 1960.

TRADESMEN'S BOOST

He also recommended a further increase of 10 cents an hour to all journeymen tradesmen, effective June 15.

He urged "immediate implementation" in the plywood industry of the job evaluation program worked out June 22, 1955.

He also called for the establishment on a trial basis of a joint committee representing both union and management to determine wage rates for new jobs and to determine whether wage adjustments are indicated where it is found that "significant changes have been made in the nature of existing jobs."

On the pay issue, Dr. Deutsch said, "In making my recommendations concerning wages, I have given most careful consideration to both the economic circumstances of the industry and the existing level of wages of the workers in relation to these circumstances, and in relation to the movement of wages generally in the province."

He also called for the establishment on a trial basis of a joint committee representing both union and management to determine wage rates for new jobs and to determine whether wage adjustments are indicated where it is found that "significant changes have been made in the nature of existing jobs."

mended would be fair and reasonable to both the workers and the companies."

Mr. Billings said, "We now have a situation in which two prominent educators of the University of B.C. have made two quite different proposals. The industry accepted the recommendation of the committee board chaired by Dean Curtis and offered 12 cents per hour increase over two years, with six cents extra for journeymen."

Dr. Deutsch's recommendation appears to be influenced almost wholly by a pattern of sharp wage increases obtained recently in non-export and service industries of the province.

MARKET WEAKER

"It ignores greatly deteriorated lumber market conditions which have taken place in the last few weeks despite the cessation of production in the coast area."

"We are only too well aware of the spread that has developed between strike-compelled high wage settlements in certain sheltered industries, and wage rates, in the exporting primary industries."

"If the wage increases forced on industries and services that can pass these extra costs along to consumers were to be adopted by the export industries, B.C. would quickly suffer the disaster of lost export markets."

"Dr. Deutsch's proposal will be considered by the membership of F.I.R."

Joe Morris' statement said simply, "At this time we are not prepared to comment on the conclusions contained in the report."

The report will be submitted to the policy committee of the union at the earliest opportunity for discussion and decision. When a decision is arrived at, the report and the committee's recommendation will be submitted to the membership in accordance with the usual practices of the organization."

TIME TO END IT

Premier Bennett, in Cheamainus, merely said, "Now it is high time for the industry and the IWA to get back to work."

Strike by 26,660 coast loggers began July 6 after 125 lumber companies rejected the IWA demands for a 20 per cent boost. The union lowered the demand to 12 per cent on the eve of the walkout, but failed to prevent a shutdown.

In other contract recommendation, Dr. Deutsch suggested a provision be inserted in the master agreement providing for the company to try

SOVIET POLICE AGENT CHECKING NIK'S TOUR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A high official of Russia's secret police, Maj.-Gen. Nikolai S. Zacharoff, is now in the United States checking security arrangements for the visit of Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Official sources said today that Zacharoff and an aide are visiting the cities where Khrushchev will stop and are checking the routes along which he will travel during his 12-day tour beginning Sept. 15.

Zacharoff is head of a division of the KGB, the Secret Russian Police Organization. His division is charged with protection of top Soviet officials.

PRINCIPLES SET OUT

He recommended, too, that the local union holds a certificate of bargaining authority covering a large area in which the company has two or more distinct logging operations, and distance makes the application of seniority impractical, the parties agree that the following principles shall prevail:

1. That there shall be separate seniority in each operation.

2. In the event of camp closures or layoffs, other than normal seasonal shutdowns, the company will give preference to the employees affected when hiring for openings occurring in other operations covered by certification and agreement.

3. The detailed application of these principles to be worked out between the company and the local union.

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks declined comment on the report, except to say he had it fewer than 24 hours. He said it had been studied by the B.C. cabinet Tuesday afternoon.

The minister said the "next step is in the hands of the parties concerned."

EISENHOWER

Continued from Page 1 from Eisenhower a pledge of U.S. support for French policy in Algeria before the issue goes before the United Nations General Assembly later this month.

Premier Antonio Segni and Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella will fly to Paris from Rome tonight for a conference with Eisenhower.

Eisenhower ended a memorable five-day visit to Britain earlier today with a plea that the United States and Britain maintain their close bonds for the sake of world peace.

Premier Bennett, in Cheamainus, merely said, "Now it is high time for the industry and the IWA to get back to work."

P.E.N.

"What about the Causeway now?" a reporter asked bluntly.

The prime minister replied that "a most comprehensive examination—the first made of the situation" was being made of the many factors involved in the proposed construction of a causeway.

In a statement issued Tuesday night from the office of Liberal leader Lester Pearson, the national Liberal party said it regrets the Conservative sweep.

But Prince Edward Island Liberals can take comfort in the fact that the popular vote was virtually even, it said, adding that the election was fought "entirely on local and provincial issues in contrast with the recent Newfoundland campaign which resulted in a Liberal victory."

The statement was issued in the absence of Mr. Pearson, who returns Thursday from a visit to Britain.

Meanwhile in Charlottetown victorious Conservative leader Walter Shaw promised that his new government would work closely with the federal government and would do everything

P.E.I. Liberals Washed Out By 'Tory Tide'

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—Prince Edward Island has a Progressive Conservative government today, its first in more than 24 years.

Led by 71-year-old Walter Shaw, the Conservatives scored a smashing triumph after an intense election campaign that emphasized the need for "a united team" of PC governments here and in Ottawa. The victory reduced Premier Alex Matheson's Liberals to seven members.

The result left only one province—Newfoundland—with a Liberal government.

The Tories captured 22 of the 30 seats at stake. They held only three in the last House, to the Liberals 27. One seat remained in doubt today.

"OUT OF TOUCH"

Mr. Shaw said in a statement at a victory rally here that "The people just got tired of a government that had got out of touch with the needs of the province." This echoed a pre-election statement that the Conservatives would be "the people's choice" because they were thinking of the issues as "citizens rather than Progressive Conservatives or Liberals."

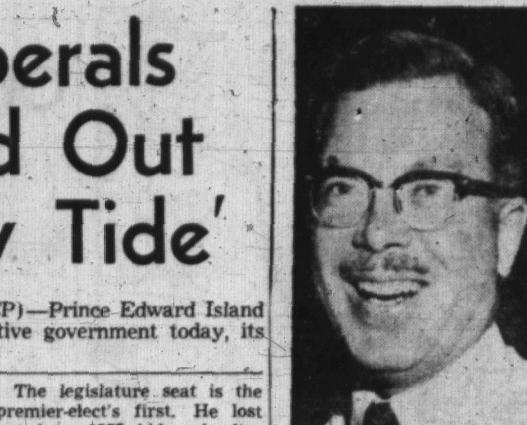

Mr. Shaw said Tuesday night that as soon as "the party of the causeway" took power vigorous steps would be taken towards construction of the proposed nine-mile road across Northumberland Strait to mainland New Brunswick.

SURPRISED AT DEFEAT

Premier Matheson said the election results indicated that the tide of Conservatism that swept the party into power in the last two federal elections had not completely subsided. He was surprised by the government's defeat although he had expected to receive a reduced majority.

The Canadian Press reported at 8:30 p.m. ADT, 2½ hours after the polls closed, that the defeat of the Liberal government was indicated. Mr. Shaw's personal victory was reported about eight minutes earlier. He squeezed out Liberal Crawford Sinclair by 30 votes in Queens First.

Despite the imposing 15-seat majority, the Conservatives out-polled the Liberals by less than one percentage point in the popular vote.

PREMIER ROBLIN orders inquiry.

DISCRIMINATION CHARGED Fishing Probe In Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Free Press says Premier Duff Roblin has ordered an investigation of the Manitoba fisheries branch as a result of charges that it has one law for the rich and another for the poor.

The newspaper says the investigation is being administered by Resources Minister C. A. Witney btit its chief supporter is Health Minister George Johnson, who represents the Lake Winnipeg fishing community of Gimli.

The incident said to have provoked the investigation occurred at Grand Rapids on the west shore of the lake when illegal gear was seized from a boat owned by a large fish company.

The newspaper says that several independent fishermen found with illegal gear lost all their gear. But in the Grand Rapids incident all but the illegal gear was returned to the offending boat.

The Free Press says that when complaints of favoritism reached the premier, he ordered the department to report in detail on its entire confiscation procedure and how it has been carried out through the summer.

The Royal Canadian Navy started the Second World War with six fighting ships.

The campaign was a straight two-day fight between Conservatives and Liberals. Each had full slates of candidates, all men.

Twenty Years After

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY Nazi troops were storming through Poland and the world was waiting out the hours of Britain's ultimatum to Adolf Hitler. The fateful moment passed without reply, and on September 3 mankind was plunged into a war whose problems are still front-page news.

It was a war which was to introduce new and terrible forms of destruction: saturation bombing, flame throwers, rocket bombs, and the ultimate weapon, nuclear explosion. Control of these weapons is still a first concern of all who wish to avoid possible destruction of the world.

It was a war which was to pose problems of armistice which have not yet been solved. The partition of defeated Germany has proved a boomerang to the victors. It is a Number One question today.

It was a war which was to accelerate the rise to independence of backward races. The spirit of freedom, which was the watchword of the victors became in turn the slogan of the undeveloped peoples of Africa and Asia. The changes and upheavals consequent on their rapid and successful struggles for self-government are still writing new pages in global history.

It was a war which, above all, presented the earth with two new contending forces—democracy and communism, and brought forth two new champions of these ideologies, relegating to secondary positions the powers which for centuries had governed world events.

The emergence of Russia as a world power no doubt was inevitable. But equally without doubt, the war hastened that emergence to the point where it became a precipitate landslide. Overnight, Communism achieved a position of power from which it could challenge the world.

And with the same rapidity and unpreparedness, the United States was thrust into the leadership of the West, facing the age-old westward lunging of the Russian bear which now appeared in a guise that had for its goal the conquest not merely of Europe but of every quarter of the planet.

Never has an international conflict been fought on the scale of the war of 1939-45. Never have the post-war repercussions rung more loudly or lasted longer—and held within their echoes a more ominous warning of a future and even more terrible outbreak.

It is a fact that most of the years since the Second World War have been spent trying to ward off a third. That is why today we have the President of the United States flying to the capitals of western Europe to align policies before he meets in Washington with the head of the Soviet Union. That is why we have the rough-and-tumble winner in the scramble for power in the Kremlin invited to tour the United States, to see its cities and its industries and visit the mid-west which less than a decade ago was still a synonym for self-imposed isolation from world affairs.

The odd thing is that in this warlike setting, this undeclared war of balanced potential and deterrent, a war-maker like Hitler would have no place. Things have got too big for a man of his calibre; the powers involved have developed far beyond his abilities.

He was a master of the mob-appeal, of the street gangs, of the week-end coup d'état, of the undeclared Blitzkrieg. But where he gambled for regions—the Saar, the Danzig Corridor and similar geography—the world leaders of today must gamble for populations, for contingents, for the world itself.

But it was Hitler who brought on, at an accelerated pace, this situation. It was a corporal from the First World War who blew up Europe in the Second World War and may yet destroy the globe in a Third World War—not directly, but with the monsters he let loose before he quitted the stage.

IN AN OBVIOUS EFFORT TO stir controversy, a Canadian magazine carries an article criticizing school teachers in this country, declaring them to be members of our "most pampered profession."

Teaching, it says, offers them so-called "professional" standing, an aura of social respectability, a field with minimum training standards that would make an engineer or chiropractor laugh; and more vacation than any other white-collar job.

There are, the article notes, some intelligent and dedicated teachers, and they deserve maximum salaries and respect.

The writer then goes on to discuss the shortcomings of many men and women in the classroom, their inadequacies in English, their demand for recognition as a profession, their continual propaganda for higher pay.

But teachers, he says, are people, with the faults of human beings.

Of course they are. And many

Boys on the Fire Line

A REPORT FROM CHEMAINUS provides some balance for recent news items of other origin concerning the relationship between juveniles and fires.

The up-island centre has in being a junior volunteer fire brigade. It was inaugurated early this year by the senior department of that town to provide youngsters with some constructive interest and to develop a potential source of recruits for the main fire suppression force.

In the course of six months a score of boys, ranging from 14 to 16, underwent instruction in fire-fighting methods, use of equipment and life-saving. From the men they learned so well that now they have passed examinations and have a substantial degree of competency in the tasks to which they have applied themselves.

This is excellent as a practical means of providing auxiliary firemen. It has the added advantage of encouraging others of the boys' ages to respect fire, understand hazards and generally increase their consciousness of the danger entailed in certain careless practices.

May the Chemainus boys' brigade add to its strength and serve as an example for other groups elsewhere.

On a number of occasions boys have done virtually men's work on the fire line—as they did last year when a blaze occurred near Cliffside at Shawnigan Lake. They showed a readiness to fight fire. They might have been even more effective had they enjoyed the type of training provided for the group at Chemainus this year.

Ship Ahooey, It's a Booey!

SINCE TELEVISION TURNED to speedboat racing in the United States for one of its great sports attractions, viewers have seen some phenomenal performances.

The high-powered small craft, throwing up rooster tails for yards behind them as they race around a prescribed course, are something to watch.

Where on earth do they get that pronunciation?

Nowhere on earth. They found it floating in the water.

BARRON, Victoria Daily Times.

BACK INTO THE BASKET

Gone Much Farther Than the Far East

THE refusal of the Mysterious East to succumb to the encroachments of the materialistic age in which we live has long been a matter for congratulation among those who like to think that life still holds a touch of the romantic, the occult, the incomprehensible. It does such folk good to know that somewhere in the Indian hinterland, for instance, a faikir is doing the rope trick, just as his father and perhaps his grandfather amazed the crowd in their time.

Tobin

It's a pleasure for them to believe that somewhere a Chinese doctor is treating a patient with powdered tiger bones or chicken feather ash, with a few muttered invocations thrown in. And above all, they delight to think that innumerable bazaars wrinkled, ageless men squat, breathing weird notes from a flute, while before them a cobra rises from a basket and sways its wicked head in the lazy rhythm of the music.

Snake in the Grass

Well, they're due for a shock. The rope trick and all the other fantasies of the Orient may go on, but the cobra dance is spoiled for all time. Somebody has found that you don't need a wrinkled, ageless man to squat and play the flute. The man himself exerted no magic over the snake, there was no supernatural influence, no Mysterious Eastern mumbo-jumbo. Because it can all be done with a tape recorder.

Yes. Electronics has reached into the bazaars and village squares. The Mysterious East is wired for sound.

A news-dispatch reveals that a Swiss journalist taped the sound of a flute being played to entrance a cobra. When the music was played back the cobra reacted just as it had to the original music of its owner. And it seemed to enjoy it just as much.

Loss of Color

Many, of course, will be left cold by this information. The only modern improvement they might suggest for the act would be substitution of a plastic snake. But to the idealistic admirer of Oriental secrets, the news will be one more dab of grey in a world fast losing its color and interest.

Slowly the world is shedding its romance and mysticism. It is true that in some ways the mysteries of science make up for the loss. But as our environment fills with transistors and cyclotrons, with nose cones and photoelectric cells, will there not be a greater and greater need for the age-old mysteries to counterbalance the streamlined, supersonic magic of the twentieth century?

Surely the new need not destroy the old. Will the mahout be shelled in favor of a radar-controlled box that guides the shambling elephant? Will plastic or fibreglas replace the ancient hemp in the rope trick? Must aspirin, castor oil and cortisone inevitably oust the dried dragon's blood, the thrice-chewed root, or the leopard's heart of the Far East doctor?

Making Up

And what will replace these things? To what excesses of clothing styles, music, food and pastimes will civilized people be driven to make up—in their chromium, plastic, logical world—for the mysteries their culture has eliminated?

A cobra swaying to a tape recorder. That is a picture of the world today. Neither one thing nor the other; neither the old nor yet the new; neither the old Adam nor the new Joe.

To be sure, we have not cheated the cobra any more than we have cheated ourselves. Nor any less. For long ago we ceased to listen to the ancient pipes and substituted instead the tape recorders, the plastic disks, the electronic pickups and the high-fidelity systems—geared only for high fidelity in kilocycles, not in the older values.

Now our civilization produces noise rather than melody, decibels rather than tone, confusion rather than rhythm. And we sway to it all, not because we are entranced, but because we are dizzy.

Slowly the world is shedding its romance and mysticism. It is true that in some ways the mysteries of science make up for the loss. But as our environment fills with transistors and cyclotrons, with nose cones and photoelectric cells, will there not be a greater and greater need for the age-old mysteries to counterbalance the streamlined, supersonic magic of the twentieth century?

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Which Dictionary?

Mr. Jim Lacey who looked through seven dictionaries without success to find the word "scrabbled" must have his dictionaries printed in Hindustani, Chinese, or perhaps Peruvian.

Scrabble, a verb, is a perfectly good English word. It has been in Webster's for at least half a century, as well as in Oxford. In more modern reference books like the American College Dictionary it has been given the added meaning of the game which swept the continent a few years back.

Besides its main meaning of "to scribble or scrawl" or "to paw with the hands," Webster also gives it as an alternative for "scramble" which was the sense it was obviously used by Mr. Ingham in his Aug. 24 article.

Sutikno Hamet, stated in parliament that Indonesian exports had declined 49 per cent in the first half of 1958. In 1951 the amount of money in circulation was five billion rupiah; now 34 billion. Talk about inflation!

FAT AND LAZY.

None of us likes to have his works or views criticised but nevertheless a critic is of more value to society than those who agree with us and say nothing.

Today the world is full of such people who think silent approval is sufficient when in reality, like faith without works, it is dead. Yet many of these people who never praise or encourage anything good are considered to be fairly well educated. This may be true in some respects . . . but certainly not in regards to the things that make a better world.

Any improvements that have been made in the world have been made by people who were alive both mentally and spiritually and were not afraid to go the second mile, so to speak, in order to accomplish their dreams.

At the present time the average person is too busy looking after his little self to see the needs of those less fortunate and by so doing is robbing himself of one of the greatest joys of life, namely — bringing happiness to others.

Sly Insult

In my opinion the picture on the front page of a recent Times showing Princess Margaret's skirt disarranged by the breeze is unkind and a sly insult to the Queen whom I am sure you will admit is trying to do her level best in her job.

The press is abusing its freedom in stooping to this kind of thing, and I am sure many people will feel the same way about it as I do.

A Lively Agenda

NEW YORK—The 14th General Assembly, which convenes this month is being awaited with interest for several reasons:

For one thing, it will start out with an address by Soviet Premier Khrushchev. It will present the publicity-conscious Russian leader with an unusual forum, and he may use it to make a key statement.

Secondly, there are a number of important items on the agenda—disarmament, and Algeria, for example, and possibly Laos.

Finally, there is the General Assembly's sounding board role. At a time when world events are moving swiftly, the assembly will act as a sort of political weather-vane. How will the Asians react to Tibet and Laos, for example?

On disarmament, secretary-general Hammarskjold has said that he will inscribe the item on the agenda if no one else does. This will ensure that this subject, to which the UN has devoted more attention over the years than any other, will be considered even if the Great Powers discuss the matter outside the UN.

As matters stand at the moment, a 10-nation disarmament group, including Canada, has been planned for disarmament discussions which would not be associated with the international organization. Many nations are concerned about this arrangement, although Hammarskjold has said he would "welcome" outside talks as long as they are co-ordinated with the UN. He said that the United Nations has final responsibility but that preliminary talks between the nations immediately concerned would be useful.

Algeria promises to be a vital debate. In fact, there have been rumors that France might even leave the United Nations if a resolution is passed advocating Algerian independence. Last year the assembly failed by one vote to pass a resolution which would have recognized "the right of the Algerian people to independence." Afro-Asians say that this year they are assured of added support and that the resolution is certain to pass.

Closely associated is the most explosive new item proposed for discussion—France's plan to test a nuclear device in the Sahara, Morocco has proposed a debate on the test.

France has never been known as a strong supporter of the UN, an organization which many Frenchmen feel as an irresponsible, international busybody. After Suez, French anti-UN feeling was, of course, especially high. Many people believe that General de Gaulle, in his preoccupation with French grandeur, is capable of withdrawing his nation from the UN.

Then there is Laos. No nation has so far proposed that this be debated, although Hammarskjold is known to be considering three alternative places for the dispatch of observers. Even if there is no debate on Laos, there are expected to be significant indications of the reaction of other Asian nations to military operations along the Chinese border.

As in previous years, India is calling for discussion on admission of China to the United Nations, but Indian spokesmen at the UN seem somewhat embarrassed by the matter. They argue that Tibet and Laos have nothing to do with the question of admission. Tibet is considered by India and many nations to be a Chinese domestic issue, while, in Laos, Chinese involvement is unproven. They concede, however, that many other nations do not share their view.

English Books Shorter

LONDON—One aftermath of the six-week printers' strike which cost the industry an estimated $80,000,000 is that from now on Britain will have shorter books. I've just learned this to my personal sorrow.

Cassells the publishers, who had scheduled my new novel, The Street That Died, for March, asked me to drop in to have a chat with them. When you're called in to have a chat with someone and the reason for it is not mentioned, you can bet your boots the news is bad. I had visions of my offering becoming The Book That Died.

But when I went in, the gentleman assigned to talk to me put my mind at rest on that score. The book would be coming out in March as planned, he said, so there was nothing to worry about on that score.

However, he said, we're going to have to reduce your book in size. He explained that it applied to all their books and now must be a general thing in publishing. The printers having got not far short of what they demanded, up soars the cost of printing. So books will just have to have less printing in them, that's all there is to it.

"We'll have to take 35,000 words out of your book," he said.

"But 35,000 words is a small book in itself," I protested.

"Sorry. It will have to come down from 115,000 to 80,000. We've worked it out that to make a 15-shilling novel—an economic proposition it can't be more than 80,000 words."

This meant that around 100 pages would be chopped out of the book, more than a quarter of it. I hastily agreed to let them do the cutting.

Authors are notoriously bad at cutting their own stuff. They hate to part with anything, whereas an editor, having not been in on the birth pangs, can indulge in ruthless slaughter.

And ruthless slaughter it was in the hands of Mr. Nico, chief cutter at Cassells. He did the pruning and then had me in for the best part of two days going through the cuts word by word.

Of course, whole chapters had to be cut.

In the long run English writing will no doubt benefit by this tightening up. But in the meantime if you read some novels from England that sound like cables you'll know it's all because of the printers.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Big Cattle Ranch Sold To Couple From U.S.

(Compiled From CP)

VANCOUVER — The Circle S Ranch at Dog Creek, one of the largest in British Columbia, has been sold to Arizona ranchers for an undisclosed sum.

Col. Victor Spencer announced the sale today to Mr. and Mrs. Allerton Cushman of the Eureka Ranch in Bonita, Ariz.

The sale includes more than 350,000 acres of cattle grazing land 175 miles north of here, plus about 1,000 head of cattle and the ranch buildings.

The Circle S was originally a winter holding area for horses used by freighters on the old Cariboo Trail to the gold fields in 1862.

The statement said the Cusmans, whose Eureka Ranch covers some 85,000 acres and who recently opened a 4,000-head-capacity feed lot at Willcox, Ariz., are expected to expand operations at Dog Creek with the shipment of about 600 young cows from the Eureka Ranch.

The sale was the second involving Col. Spencer in recent weeks. He and Lieutenant Governor Frank Ross sold out the Douglas Lake Ranch in the Nicola Valley, whose 650,000 acres and some 10,000 cattle made it among the most important cattle ranches in North America.

TUG CREW SAVED

VANCOUVER — The tug Kansas was reported sunk Tuesday in Vanguard Bay at the mouth of Jervis Inlet. The two crew members were taken aboard the Black Ball Ferry Guillayute.

FRUIT PACT MADE

KELOWNA — The Okanagan Valley packing industry and union leaders have agreed on a settlement of their wage dispute, it was announced Tuesday.

A joint statement by James Currie of the B.C. Interior Fruit and Vegetable Workers Union (CLC) and L. R. Stephens of the Okanagan Federated Shippers Association said details of the settlement will be withheld until ratified by members of the union and association.

An association meeting has been called for Sept. 11. Union meetings were expected to be completed within 10 days.

A contract affects some 3,000 packing-house workers in the Okanagan and Kootenays.

ECONOMIC SURVEY

PRINCE RUPERT — Alderman T. Norton Youngs said Tuesday work is under way on a $25,000 economic survey of Prince Rupert which will serve as a blueprint for future planning and industrial development.

Alderman Youngs said the survey will take about three years and the federal government will contribute $12,000 toward the cost.

VANCOUVER — Police are investigating the method used Monday night to pick the "1,000,000th" far at a British Columbia Lions football game here.

Ron MacRae, 26, of North Vancouver, won some $10,000 in prizes when his number was pulled from a barrel at half-time.

The 34,273 fans were each given a numbered stub and a corresponding stub was dropped in the barrel.

The investigation will determine whether the draw was an illegal lottery under the Criminal Code.

CLIMBER RESCUED

VANCOUVER — After two days wandering through rugged bush country on a West Vancouver mountainside, Vancouver nurse Maris Gabrisch, 45, was rescued Tuesday. More than 20 men, aided by police dogs and a plane, took part in the two-day search through heavily-forested countryside.

FILE STRIKE NOTICE

VANCOUVER — The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (CLC) has filed 48-hour strike notice on 19 electrical contractors here. However, the brotherhood did not set a deadline. The notice was filed after the union rejected a 16½-cent wage increase over two years made by management. The union is seeking 24 cents in a two-year agreement.

Miss Gabrisch went hiking on the north side of Hollyburn Mountain dressed in mountain boots, shorts and a light blouse. She became lost when she left her companions to take some pictures but at first was not worried.

She accidentally dropped her pack, containing warm clothing, matches and mountain-climbing equipment, over the side of Cypress dam.

She was forced to keep walking to keep from freezing and had no sleep during the 48 hours she was lost.

Miss Gabrisch lived on a slice of bread, a carrot and some blueberries until she was found by three searchers Tuesday. More than 20 men, aided by police dogs and a plane, took part in the two-day search through heavily-forested countryside.

FUND LAUNCHED TO AID POLIO VICTIM'S FAMILY

DUNCAN—Canadian Legion here has launched a fund to aid the family of Mrs. Vernon Erickson, 26, who died of polio Saturday in Victoria, and who was buried here today.

Her husband, a logging truck driver, is out of work because of the current IWA strike.

Legion president Robert Evans said the fund will help pay bills and save the four Erickson children from hardship. His group gave $100 to start the fund.

Bonner to Open Cowichan Fair

(From Duncan Bureau)

Hon. Robert Bonner, B.C. attorney-general and minister of trade and commerce, notified the secretary of Cowichan Exhibition Tuesday that he would be pleased to officiate at the opening of the big show at 2 p.m. Sept. 11.

Originally Premier W. A. C. Bennett was expected to open the fair, but he will be absent in eastern Canada at that time. The exhibition board is satisfied to have the minister of trade and commerce appear because the industrial and commercial side of the show is being emphasized this year.

Directors announced Tuesday the closing date for receipt of entry forms has been set back an extra week to accommodate exhibitors, mainly because catalogues were mailed later than usual this year.

New deadline is 6 p.m. Saturday at the office on Exhibition Grounds.

Fluoridation Plant Contract Awarded

CAMPBELL RIVER—Village commission has awarded a $1,225 contract to J. T. Johnson for installation of a fluoridation plant here "as soon as possible."

Completion of the project, to cost a total of $5,000, will make Campbell River the first municipality on Vancouver Island to fluoridate its water supply.

2-Year-Old Crime Brings Fine of $25

DUNCAN—William James Todd, Victoria, was fined $25 or 30 days Monday when he appeared before Magistrate A. C. Sutton on a charge of obtaining money through an attempt to defraud here exactly two years ago.

Todd was found guilty of writing and passing a credit union cheque for $8 in a grocery store when he knew he had no money in his account to cover it.

At that time Todd had been given frequent overdrafts because of mismanagement of credit union funds. George W. Stott, present manager of the Duncan and District Credit Union, testified.

Alan Bigelow, defence counsel, argued before the court that "when a man is given overdrafts and a line of credit he did not show intent to defraud."

Boy Cyclist Suffers Skull Fracture

Eight-year-old Kelly Patterson, 2849 Knotty Pine, is in "fairly good" condition with fractured skull and a broken arm received when he was flung from his bicycle in collision with a car at Langford Tuesday about 3 p.m.

Police said the boy rode his bike from a path onto Jacklin Road, right into the course of a car driven by Alan Reece, 2830 Jacklin.

Impact sent the boy flying and his bike was crushed underneath the car, which stopped immediately.

Langford ambulance took the boy to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was admitted.

OTHER CITIES ADOPT MALLS, PARKING PLANS

Victoria's Thunder Stolen

While Victoria is stymied in its efforts to head off the "downtown blight" which could ruin its taxation structure, the rest of the continent has taken hold of the idea of malls and new downtown parking facilities and is excited about their prospects; directors of the Victoria Downtown Business Association were told recently.

Secretary Archie H. Wills, who has just returned from a lengthy visit to Eastern Canada and the United States, made the report.

"The sad part of the situation is the fact that Victoria was one of the early sponsors of malls and the taxpayers voted in favor of them last December," he said. It had been hoped that the malls and the new View Street parking building would have been ready for service by this Christmas but it is a question now if they ever will be built.

Everyone Benefits

Confused thinking has led to statements that these new attractions and facilities are for the benefit of the big stores. This, Mr. Wills said, is not correct because the big stores can and do, take care of their own requirements. It is the general public, professional and business people and smaller merchants who have no parking facilities and are now being deprived of these necessities.

School Work Gets Go-Ahead By Bond Sale

LADYSMITH—Sale of debentures, as promised by Education Minister Leslie Peterson, will permit School District 67 to proceed with necessary school construction, school board secretary R. W. Ovenden reported Tuesday.

The building program was threatened when the board's bank refused to extend further overdraft credit until the government made firm arrangements for the sale of board debentures.

Mr. Peterson advised the board that Ladysmith bonds will be included in the sale of school district debentures in late September and early October, Mr. Ovenden said.

Row Over Dog Winds Up in Grave Charge

DUNCAN—Alan Robert Milner was fined $150 and had his driver's licence suspended when found guilty in police court here Monday of impaired driving.

He was charged as a result of a dispute with a neighbor, E. R. Jackson, Kilmallock Road, after which police were called.

Trouble started when Jackson saw Milner's dog worrying one of his sheep, and shot the animal. Later the sheep had to be destroyed.

Milner called at the Jackson home on two occasions to threaten the family. Police arrived the second time to find Milner shouting threats against the family. He also was intoxicated, and there was evidence that he skidded up the Jackson driveway.

In passing sentence Magistrate A. C. Sutton warned Milner against making any threats or attempts at retaliation against Jackson and his family. Jackson had the right to shoot the dog when caught killing his sheep, the magistrate said.

Island Cow Tops at PNE

(From Duncan Bureau)

Paul's April, a four-year-old Ayrshire cow from the herd of J. L. Saville, Cobble Hill, was grand champion Ayrshire female at the Pacific National Exhibition when this breed was judged Tuesday morning by Douglas Ness, of Howick, Quebec.

April was the reserve grand champion at the Nanaimo fair, where she was beaten by Elmwood Grace, owned by Dawson Farms, Nanoose Bay.

Earliest the contract could go into effect would be October, according to council.

Water at Nanaimo Barred to Swimmers

NANAIMO—Waters of Newcastle Channel and Millstone River, including the Bowen Park swimming pool, have been condemned by the union board of health as unsafe for swimming.

Dr. C. J. G. McKenzie, director, has posted notices on the polluted waters, and has warned that Harewood dam is only "fair."

He said Departure Bay, where several bathers have reported contracting a severe rash, was only fair to good.

Considered safe are Protection Island and Newcastle Beach, well away from sources of pollution, and Westwood Lake, where there has been considerable development to create a beach and resort area.

SCOTLAND YARD TURNS DOWN NEW INQUIRY

Oakes Murder Case Closed

NASSAU, Bahamas (Reuters)—Scotland Yard has refused to reopen an investigation into the murder of Sir Harry Oakes, Canadian gold mining millionaire who was clubbed to death here in 1943. The Bahamas House of Assembly passed a resolution last May asking the government to reopen the case.

In a message to the House Monday, Governor Sir Arthur Raynor revealed there were no new clues now to justify another investigation.

The House's resolution followed statements by an American private detective, Raymond Schindler, who has since died, that he had clues "which would crack the case."

The government had written to Schindler asking him for his clues. His reply had been handed to Scotland Yard.

MOTHER OF YOUNG SHOPLIFTER CHARGED

Boy's 'Sticky Fingers' Fed Family

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A mother accused of aiding her teen-aged son in 600 shoplifting forays says she and her husband took advantage of the boy's "sticky fingers" because her family was hungry.

Delores Myers, 36, mother of seven, was arraigned Tuesday on charges of burglary and contributing to the delinquency of her son, Gary, 14.

She was arrested at a house she and her husband, Kenneth, 42, rented Friday.

Myers, charged with burglary, receiving stolen property and contributing to the delinquency of Gary, is still at large. Charges were filed against parents, waited for him in a parked car, Gary said.

IN ROCKET LONG AS FOOTBALL FIELD

Trip to Moon and Back by 1964

LONDON (UPI) — Two American scientists disclosed today they had completed preliminary studies for a giant rocket, which, by 1964, could be carrying a two-man crew to the moon—and back.

M. W. Rosen and F. C. Schwenk of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington said the powerful engines required for such a journey already were being developed, while the fuels already were in use.

The rocket was described as being 300 feet long—the length of a football field. Constructed in five stages, it would employ a cluster of rocket engines capable of developing 1,500,000 pounds of thrust each and would require 9,000,000 pounds of thrust for the take-off from earth.

Queen Elizabeth I offered a prize of £10,000, a fortune in the 16th century, for an apparatus to take salt out of sea water cheaply.

NO NEWS GOOD NEWS WHEN JUNIOR AT CAMP?

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — When 10-year-old Douglas Soden went to camp his mother wanted to make sure she heard from him—so she gave him a stamped addressed envelope and inserted a blank sheet of paper.

Mrs. Soden got the envelope Tuesday. Inside, as she had left it, was the blank sheet of paper.

SPORTS PARADE

Time For Tears

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — There is something humorous, on the surface, when the American football coaches take their seats at the wailing wall even before the season opens.

Like in the case of Ralph Jordan of Auburn, whose teams haven't tasted defeat in two years.

"I doubt seriously," he says, "if we will be much improved over the past two years."

Funny? Not at all. Nor is it to such as Iowa's Forest Eashevski, whose team last year copped the Big Ten and the Rose Bowl, when he says this time out they will be "lucky" to win half their games.

ALUMNI ALIBI

For in coaching, nothing matters as little as the games which were won last year. Joe Stydahar found that out in 1952, one year after winning the National Football League title. He dropped three exhibition games and the season opener—and was canned.

When they wave that press-censoring towel it is known in the trade as preparing the "alumni alibi." It has a twofold purpose. If the coach, after much moaning, comes up with a winner he is accepted as a genius. If he has a losing season, the fans have been pre-warned and the howls of the alumni wolves aren't quite so raucous.

For football coaching is a tremendously demanding business in which only a portion of the physical and mental strain results from the action on the field. It is not uncommon for a losing coach to be hanged in effigy and for his entire family to be hounded and insulted. Being summarily fired is the least of his torment.

Frankie Albert summed it up best when he resigned last December as coach of the San Francisco Forty-Niners. Albert withstood the physical and emotional strain but "couldn't stand it when the fans started picking on my family."

"My wife and two daughters ran out of supermarkets where they could shop without being insulted," he asserted. "My oldest daughter quit coming to the games because she couldn't bear to sit in the stands and hear her father called a bum."

Albert said he "considered quitting the game from the minute I took the job." After three years he stepped down because "while I love football, I love my family even more."

ONLY SIX OF NINE

Football coaches, on the whole, make more stops than ball players. One such was Wes Fesler, who had been an outstanding athlete at Ohio State and coached at Connecticut Wesleyan, Harvard, Princeton and Pitt before being handed the head coaching reins at his alma mater.

Fesler lasted four years. He led the Buckeyes to the Big 10 crown in 1950 and on to Rose Bowl triumph. But the alumni really bounced him against the wall a year later when he won "only" six of nine games. Fesler resigned on the grounds that "my health won't stand the strain of trying to win every game."

There was much more to it than that. The Fesler family went through some humiliating attacks which were visited on the Alberts. Fesler's wife revealed that irate and insulting buckeye backers phoned their home at all hours of the day and night and most of the language was unprintable.

Six weeks later, Fesler no longer could withstand the magnetic attraction which football held for him and signed to coach at Minnesota. But three years there made little difference. Finally he stepped down "because of acute nervousness and illness."

Dale Hall, taking over an army team ranked third nationally last year and rated even stronger this season, faces his debut with cautious optimism." He explains that "circumstances change the results of games and campaigns." That's soldier talk but any football coach will tell you that he's always under fire—and even the Roman Coliseum had nothing on this.

EVEN CHARLES COULDN'T SAVE GUNNERS

Forty-seven thousand fans turned up at Highbury to see Mel Charles play his first English Football League game with Arsenal, but even Charles couldn't save Gunners from defeat. Sheffield Wednesday made a great return to first division by nipping Arsenal, 1-0. Sheffield's Roy Shiner leaps high above Charles to beat famous centre-half to high ball. (Mirrorpic.)

Bob Tops Old Mark; Reaches Swim Final

Victoria's Bob Wheaton is in final of the 100-metre backstroke swim at the Pan-American Games at Chicago.

The 18-year-old swimmer reached the final by virtue of a record-breaking second-place finish in one of the 100-metre backstroke heats Tuesday.

However, despite the fact that he broke the former mark of 1.07.1, set by Frank McKinney of Indianapolis, make a total of two silver and Wheaton didn't get his name in the record books.

He was one of four swimmers who broke the established standard in the heats and the new mark still belongs to McKinney himself, who did it Tuesday in 1.03.2 in one of the heats.

Other Canadian athletes also turned in good performances Tuesday, winning one silver and two bronze medals to make a total of two silver and one bronze awards for the 175-athlete team at the halfway mark in the 12-day games.

Track and field stars accounted for both silver and four of the bronze medallions.

Bob Bedard, who has been come known as the upset expert of the courts during the current tournament, assured Canada of another medal — gold or silver — by qualifying for the tennis singles final, being played today.

Silver-medalist Alice Whitty, Vancouver veteran of Olympic and British Empire Games competition, threatened to "go out and get disgusted" after her high jump of a meagre four feet, 11 inches earned her a second-place tie. The mark was possibly the lowest jump to win a medal in international competition.

"I don't know what happened," said Miss Whitty. "The whole field was terrible. I jumped five feet one inch when I was 14 years old, and now—fourteen."

The other Canadian medal winners were jubilant. Marian Munroe of Richmond Hill, Ont., shed tears of joy when she realized she was third in the hurdles, just a whisker behind Brazil's Vanda Dos Santos. Winner Berta Diaz of Cuba, who set a record of 11.2 seconds, also wept.

$15 Million Work on Pulp Plant

Premier Bennett Tuesday announced a $15,000,000 renovation of the Woodfibre pulp plant of Alaska Pine & Cellulose, Ltd.

He said renewal work would start immediately and on its completion by June, 1961, the company would employ 360 men in the production of Kraft paper.

It will be operated under the firm's new name, Rayonier of Canada, Ltd.

Premier Bennett made the announcement following a two-day meeting of company directors at the Empress Hotel. He said the revival of the Woodfibre operations (the plant has been closed for some time) was "Good news for British Columbia."

The premier hinted the government might eventually build a highway to Woodfibre from Squamish. He said the new plant would be fitted with the most up-to-date machinery in North America.

He linked the project with two other recent industrial developments in British Columbia, the Celgar pulp mill at Castlegar and the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. steel mill now under construction at Kimberley.

"It is nice to see industry getting back its confidence and expanding its plants in British Columbia," he stated.

Woodfibre is located on the southern shore of Howe Sound, about 30 miles north of Vancouver.

INDIANS LOSE CULTURAL HERITAGE

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's Indians are steadily being wiped out as a cultural group, a prominent Canadian Indian said Tuesday night.

"It is genocide," said Gilbert Clarence Monture, former official of the federal mines department. "It is less brutal and less certain than the gas chambers, but it is genocide just the same."

Mr. Monture, a Six Nations Indian, spoke at a seminar of the National Federation of Canadian University Students on the influence of diverse cultures in Canada's national character.

He said an Indian who wants to be a normal Canadian citizen is forced to renounce his cultural heritage, his rights and privileges as an Indian, and the fellowship of his people.

The federal Indian affairs department was doing its best to help the Indian, he said, but Indian cultures differed from section to section of Canada and no one solution was possible.

Umbrella Man, Dracula Captured in Knifings

N.Y. Leaders Meet to Combat Youth Violence

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police today captured the alleged leaders of the Hell's Kitchen playground attack early Sunday that left two teen-agers dead and prompted state and city officials to call a series of top-level meetings on this city's rising youth violence.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller asked FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to enter the battle by attending an emergency meeting next week. State and city leaders were preparing for other conferences scheduled Thursday.

The cape-clad "Dracula" and "The Umbrella Man" were arrested early today after fleeing from a police radio car. With them was a third youth who was not identified.

"TM DRACULA"

Police said Sal Agron readily admitted: "I'm Dracula, the guy you are looking for."

But the slender youth who in the attack wore a blue cape with red lining and silver buckles on his shoes denied killing either of the victims.

"I cut somebody early Sunday but I didn't kill anybody," police quoted him as saying.

However, a witness was reported to have said "Dracula" boasted he had done the stabbing after the attack in a darkened playground.

"UMBRELLA MAN"

Agron said Tony Hernandez, arrested with him, was "The Umbrella Man," also wanted in connection with the murders. Four other youths already have been charged with murder.

Gov. Rockefeller stepped into the crisis Tuesday afternoon when he called two emergency meetings on the upsurge of juvenile violence.

The recent occurrences of juvenile violence in the streets, and the fear, anxiety and heartbreak they have evoked, are tragic to all of us," Rockefeller said in announcing the move.

"And they call for action by all of us — officials of government, parents and private organizations," he said.

Rockefeller is to meet Thursday morning with state leaders. That same afternoon, Mayor Robert F. Wagner had a conference scheduled with city officials.

The streets already were being patrolled by an extra force of police. Mayor Robert F. Wagner Tuesday backed up police commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy's move transferring 1,400 police to juvenile crime duty and indicated he favored tough measures in combating teen gangs.

New Trade Pact Held Up by Russians

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — Negotiations for the completion of a trade agreement between Russia and Canada are in a state of suspension pending the return to Canada of the Russian commercial counsellor, Hon. Gordon Churchill, minister of trade and commerce, said Tuesday.

Alexandre I. Lobatchev, Russian commercial counsellor in Ottawa is now in Moscow. It is understood he is discussing details of the proposed trade agreement. He is expected to return this fall.

Meanwhile, the Canadian cabinet has had under consideration the broad outlines of the proposed new trade agreement with Russia. It is reported to have given its approval to the outline.

The holdup in the signing of a new agreement between the two countries has been the insistence by Russia that Canada agree to take a stipulated amount of goods in return for a Russian commitment to pursue.

Pretty Up Kitchen for Fall With Wood Trim, Spice Rack

By PENNY SAVER

Clean-up, spruce-up time is here again! That ol' kitchen seems to look a little the worse for wear at this time of year. Needs good beauty treatment after the wear and tear of the summer.

First thing is to give it a good cleaning up and clearing up. Every home-keeper seems to have a few messy spots in her kitchen. For some it's one drawer that collects all the odds and ends that haven't a place of their own. Others can't keep those pots and pans tidy. Another clutter collector is the spice cupboard. Why not get rid of those ugly spots?

Price is attractive, too—only 29 cents!

For prettifying up a dull spot any place in the house, this inch-wide real wood trim is marvelous. Flexible, it comes in rolls of eight feet of the real wood veneer. Use it to make your own picture frames (or to make new frames out of old), decorate a lamp, clock, wastepaper basket. Also it's perfect for covering the rough edges of plywood panels.

Choose your favorite wood: Walnut, birch, Philippine mahogany, oak or fir. Price of roll is $1.05.

P.S.—Bothered by draughts? There's a new form of weather-stripping that goes on with the pressure of a fingertip! Works just like ordinary weather-stripping, to keep cold out—use it outside or in.

Sixteen feet costs a mere 39 cents.

ON ETIQUETTE

CORSAGE THAT DIDN'T MATCH:

When planning my costume as the main speaker at a meeting, I got some artificial flowers that seemed just right for my dress. The day of the meeting I received from the club a corsage of flowers that screamed inharmoniously with the color I was wearing. Should I have worn them anyway?

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

Yes. The members of the group especially the one who selected the corsage, could have been offended at your ingratitude if you hadn't worn it. Surely the jarring color scheme didn't detract from your speech.

What is demi tasse? What is the translation of demi tasse, and can one say "demi tasse cups"?

Louise Davis answers: The translation of demi tasse is small cup used for after

DEAR ABBY . . .

Flip Off the Chip!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After being married for 11 years and bearing five children for my husband, he still says he is "going home" when he goes to visit his parents.

It is a little town about 60 miles from here and he makes the trip about once a week.

I know it is natural for a man to want to see his parents, but it makes me very angry to hear him say, "I am going home."

Don't you think that after 11 years where his wife and children are should be called home? This may seem like a small matter to you but it is big to a woman whose husband feels more at home with his mother than with his wife and children.

SECOND CHOICE.

DEAR SECOND: Don't jump to any hasty conclusions. "Home" to most people is the town they've grown up in. It's simply habit and doesn't indicate that your husband feels more "at home" with his mother than he does with you. Remove that chip from your shoulder.

DEAR ABBY: To "Old-Fashioned," who wants to know "Where are all those lovely teenage girls who used to sit with children for the joy of it?" May I say, "When parents start raising children who are a joy to sit with, perhaps teenagers will again sit for the joy of it."

Yours truly,

FORMER SITTER

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is being married soon and before I announce her engagement I would like some advice. Our town has a habit of putting on huge showers for brides. Four or five women get together and invite every body in town whether they know the bride or not. In my opinion, it is just a racket to collect as many gifts as possible. Then when the wedding and reception list is made up, many of the guests are the same women who have brought a gift to the showers. How can I get it across to my friends that I do not care for this wholesale kind of affair?

MOTHER OF THE BRIDE: Inform any friends who offer to give a shower for your daughter that you prefer they do not for the above-mentioned reason, which is as sensible as any could be. People are pretty sick of being soaked at showers.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WONDERING: Of course you should ask how "all" the children are. A retarded child's health and progress is particularly important to his parents.

Only a very ignorant or thoughtless person would intentionally avoid mentioning the retarded child when inquiring about the family.

For Abby's pamphlet! What Every Teenager Wants to Know," send 25¢ and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to this paper.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Sorry, Cream Puffs Just Don't Have Health Value

The following letter presents so many mistaken ideas about reducing and the same misconception that so many women have, that I would like to add my voice to those who would be interested in it and my answer.

Dear Mrs. Lowman: If three-fourths of a cream puff contains 100 calories and there are 100 Josephine calories in three tablespoons of cottage cheese—does it make any difference which I eat?

"I eat no breakfast but at mid-morning I have a cup of coffee and something to eat; A cream puff gives me more satisfaction than the cottage cheese. I get the mid-morning hunger even if I do eat breakfast."

"Also, if I save up 100 calories to be spent in food before I go to bed, will those 100 calories go to fat? I have myself on a 1200-a-day diet to lose 15 pounds. I am 5 feet 3 inches tall and weigh 130 pounds."

This reader is going about reducing the wrong way.

It is fine to hold the daily calorie count to 1200 but how you spend those 1200 calories is important to your health and beauty.

The cottage cheese gives you much more in health than the cream puff. The former is a fine form of protein while the puff doesn't give you much in health value.

You could eat nothing but Hollandaise sauce or fried potatoes if you stuck to your calorie count, BUT I would hate to see how you would look and your health would be seriously damaged. Be sure that you get all the basic foods every day. This just doesn't leave room for cream puffs!

The next mistake this reader is making is to skip breakfast. It has been demonstrated over and over again that those women who eat three meals a day are the most successful reducers. They can save an item or so such as skim milk or fruit for in-between meals but they should not entirely miss a meal.

Also, food is no more fattening at one time of day or night than at another.

Ryall-Thompson Vows in Texas

A wedding of interest here yet roses. Elbow-length white gloves and a single strand of pearls completed her outfit. The bridal bouquet was gaudy and stephanotis. Maid of honor was Miss Barbara Ryall, sister of the groom, and the bride's brother, Robert Andrew Thompson III. Who was best man.

charge accounts invited

Wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. During the evening, guests enjoyed music and dancing on the patio.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, and other points in the South, the young couple will make their home in Fort Worth.

Rev. Samuel Orr Capers officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Bride chose a gown of white peau de soie for her wedding. Bodice had a draped effect and cap sleeves. Skirt was cut in a slender silhouette in front, flaring into soft deep folds to a chapel train. An elbow-length veil of imported illusion cascaded from a small hat of peau de soie set with two large white velvets.

This photo was taken in Natal, South Africa, of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kroeger who recently returned with their son, Mr. Jack Kroeger, to Victoria. The family are well known here in theatre circles and were all avid members of the Victoria Little Theatre Guild, Langham Court Theatre. At present they are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Kirkendale at their home on Greenwood Avenue. (Photo by Natal Daily News)

Former Victorians Come Back After Ten Years Stay in Africa

By JUDY NICHOLSON

Back in Victoria after 10 years of living in South Africa, a charming family, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kroeger and 26-year-old son, Jack, "It's been an exciting and wonderful adventure living in another country," exclaims Mrs. Kroeger, "but now we're back in Victoria, which is just as beautiful and much more serene, I'm not so sad about leaving South Africa."

The family went to live in Durban, South Africa, where Mr. Kroeger was connected with a chemical company. He says, "It was a great surprise to us when we arrived in that country, to find such progress. Why it's extremely modern in most parts!"

Asked about living conditions there, the Kroegers explain that they are very good. "Of course," says Mr. Kroeger, "there is the racial problem, which means there exists a great dividing line in society." For instance, "he continues, "the Europeans (name given all white people no matter what their nationality by the natives) never mix with native South Africans. Why, in some extreme cases, it is a criminal offence. This is a government law. Natives have their own restaurants, taxis, theatres and bars."

Jack joins in saying "No European" would dare enter any of these places." "But," he adds, "one never encounters a native in places run for white people exclusively."

Mrs. Kroeger explains, "Sometimes it is difficult for the white people to understand this problem especially when they give parties. After all, there are native professors, students and professional men who add much to today's society and naturally they are included on the guest list." The law there is that a white may invite a native to his home, only if he does not serve him liquor. "This is absolutely a written and almost always practised law," says Mr. Kroeger.

On subject of cost of living, the Kroegers are quite emphatic when they say the cost of living in South Africa is much lower than it is here.

"I was truly shocked by the difference in prices here compared to there, when we returned," declares Mrs. Kroeger. "The tax on items here seems to highly overrate that put on articles there," she says. "But then we weren't in Victoria when the 10% per cent tax was levied here." She laughs consolingly when she says "I guess I became spoiled by the easy life in Africa!"

Mrs. Kroeger also worked in Durban. "It was a job in the office of a British paint company. I loved it and it did give me a chance to meet many people," she says.

Their son Jack acquired a job with Twentieth Century Fox film producers while there. He explains, "For five years I was publicly and advertising manager."

He's also a versatile young man in that he has also tried his hand at fashion designing. "In fact," he says enthusiastically, "I was given the marvellous chance to attend last month's fall showings of women's fashions at the House of Maggy Rouff in Paris en route home to Canada."

Completing the sketch on the 26-year-old young man, he has also been in the shoe business. "Right now I'm especially enthused about the Italian shoes for women . . . they are truly exquisite."

His mother adds, "Talking about fashion, I noticed when we arrived in South Africa, how drab the women's clothes were. It was seldom one would see a very stylish person. But now, 10 years later, they have become very up-to-date and are extremely clothes conscious."

She tells an amusing story about this. "When I was working, I would dress in what I thought was appropriate for the office . . . which to me includes a hat. But this flabbergasted my co-workers who would ask as I arrived in the morning, 'Why are you all dressed up, are you going to a party?'" Now the tables are turned, the women there are keeping up with the Parisian fashions and some of them are really beautifully dressed!"

Though the great change of returning to their home town is still quite fresh to them, the Kroegers are quite certain when they say "Now we're back, we think we'll stay . . . Victoria is always home to us vagabonds."

Technician Retires

Miss Margaret Patterson, chief X-ray technician at Royal Jubilee Hospital, retired last weekend after 35 years in the department. In her honor 100 employees and former employees attended a tea party Friday afternoon in Harmony Room at the hospital. Dr. H. H. Murphy, past chair of radiology; Dr. H. M. Edmison, chief of radiology department, and Mr. Pat Smith, president of the Hospital Employees' Association, all made presentations from departments. At the party former students of Miss Patterson were represented by Mrs. M. Hope. At the head table were Dr. Murphy, Dr. Edmison, Mr. George Masters, hospital administrator; Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical administrator; Mr. J. L. Hobbs, representative from board of directors; Mr. Smith, Mrs. Margo Hope and Miss Beryl Ferguson. Miss Ferguson presided at tea. Friday evening, at Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Edmison's Mt. Joy Avenue home, a cocktail party was given in honor of Miss Patterson. Members of the X-ray department and Miss Ferguson, chief medical record librarian, attended. Members of X-ray staff put on a skit depicting Miss Patterson's department life. At present Miss Patterson is at Shawnigan Lake for a short holiday; this fall she will leave for an extended holiday in Florida.

Rysttafel'

A "Rysttafel" or ceremonial buffet supper will be given by Lieut. Edmond Poulet, commanding officer of the Belgium ship Dufour, and the officers of the wardroom, Friday evening. Guests will be officers of HMCS New Glasgow, HMCS Beacon Hill, HMCS Ottawa, HMCS St. Theresa and officers and managers of the dockyard offices and their wives. The Belgium ship is the former HMCS Winnipeg. It leaves Victoria next Thursday.

Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. F. Starr entertained at a surprise farewell party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. Jones who left recently to make their home at Kamloops, where Mr. Jones has been appointed to teaching staff at the school there. Affair was held at the Starr home on Orchard Avenue. A Beswick china planter filled with cut flowers was presented to the honor guests. Also at the party were Rev. and Mrs. A. I. Avery, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. S. Dear and Mr. and Mrs. D. Fink.

Farewell Parties

Mrs. Max Munro, who left Ganges last weekend with her three children, to join her husband at Burns Lake where they will make their new home was honored by her many friends prior to her departure. Mrs. A. M. Brown entertained at a farewell party at her home on Rainbow Road, Ganges, for Mrs. Munro. Attending the affair were members of the United Church evening circle. ## TODAY'S RECIPE

ORANGE-NUT BARS

One cup once-sifted all-purpose flour, or 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons once-sifted pastry flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup granulated sugar, 1/4 cup granulated sugar, 1 egg yolk, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoons (about) orange juice, 1/4 cup thick raspberry jam, 1 egg white (at room temperature), 1/4 cup granulated sugar, 3 tablespoons finely-chopped blanched almonds. Grease an 8-inch square cake pan. Preheat oven to 325 degrees F. (rather slow). Sift together the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter and margarine. Gradually blend in brown sugar; 1/4 cup granulated sugar and egg yolk; beat well. Stir in orange rind and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with sufficient orange juice to make a fairly thick raspberry jam. 1 egg white until stiff but not dry.

Skin Lotion Too Potent For Burglar

An admitted "very bad alcoholic" who helped himself to food and a bed in the vacated home of a holidaying Saanich woman pleaded guilty in Saanich police court Tuesday to a charge of breaking and entering.

Clifford Roland Davidson, no fixed address, told police he had drunk two bottles of skin lotion on Saturday.

He tried to get through a small window at the home of Miss Barbara Lang, 986 Arundel, failed to gain entry and then forced open a set of French doors. He stayed the night.

A friend of the occupant noticed the burglary, and articles left behind by Davidson led police to the accused. He was remanded to next Tuesday for probation report and sentence.

Chinese Pair Granted Stay Of One Year

OTTAWA (CP)—A Chinese woman and her young daughter in Winnipeg have been granted a one-year stay of deportation "on grounds of compassion," Immigration Minister Fairclough said today.

The woman, Mrs. Chiu You Lai, and her 14-year-old daughter, Patricia, entered Canada nearly five years ago on visitors' permits and have been staying with Mrs. Chiu's son-in-law, Alex Lum, in Winnipeg.

Last January they applied for permanent residence and were refused. After the deportation order was issued, about 4,000 persons signed a petition asking the immigration department to reconsider the case.

Mrs. Fairclough said today that she had issued a permit allowing them to stay in Canada for one year effective today.

Saanich Man Wins PNE Rabbit Trophy

Major winner in the PNE rabbit show was A. J. Ingram, 5465 Old West Saanich Road, one of British Columbia's leading rabbit breeders.

He was awarded the Miracle trophy for winning the most points in the show and also received the PNE gold medal certificate for the largest entry by one exhibitor.

Mr. Ingram won 15 first prizes, five seconds and one third prize with his entries and took as well all English Spot awards.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Andy Griffith, the "slow-talkin', philosopher-like star of "Destry," thinks the public's already sick of sick comedians.

He's been doing a daily five-minute radio monologue on CBS with the Will Rogers approach . . . pointing out for example, that "nowadays schools" are different than when you and I went."

"They don't have reading, writing and 'rithmetic nowadays . . . they've got group behavior, receptivity to new ideas, aesthetic perception, economic viewpoint and marital adjustment," drawls Andy.

"Now, mind you, these are for kids five years old. Now, supposin' a five-year-old boy gets marked poor in socio-economic initiative. That's a terrible thing for a five-year-old boy to have. How do you go about telling a little innocent child he lacks socio-economic initiative?"

back to school

ture deal with Frank Sinatra . . . Mama Gabor, who planned to sell her Madison Avenue jewelry shop, changed her mind.

There's now a song called "Steve and Anne Marie," marking the Rockefeller marriage . . . Singer Shirley Jones will draw a straight dramatic role in the "Elmer Gantry" movie . . . Henry Fonda's daughter Susan tried to buy a partnership in a Manhattan cafe espresso shop.

Earl's Pearls: You know a woman loves her husband when she smiles at him the way she does at a traffic cop.

Today's Best Laugh: Sammy Kaye reports from Texas that the local inhabitants have been warned about a flood of phony $10,000 bills.

Wish I'd Said That: When some girls return from summer vacations they give you a beau-beau account.

Max Asnas, just back from California, admits: "The only time I'm homesick is when I'm home." That's earl, brother.

SOLUTION FRIDAY

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions to select an answer with a prize worth the price.

The questions and the answers will appear in the column each day.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Wesley Radford, age 12, of Burkesville, Ky., for his question:

How old is the earth?

The earth, of course, is older than the seas, the continents, the mountains and the rocks. For these were all made by the earth. It is possible to estimate the age of some of these things, but this only tells us that the earth is at least as old as this and must have been in existence much longer.

The most accurate way to tell the age of the earth is by radioactive decay. There are small traces of radioactive materials, such as uranium, in many rocks. Large radioactive atoms decay, or break into smaller atoms, and this happens at a very definite rate as regular as clockwork.

Nature's radioactive clock gives us an accurate way to tell the age of a rock, for nothing can hurry it up or slow it down. The process goes on at the same rate regardless of earthquakes, volcanoes, floods or mountain making.

Experts can tell how long this atomic clock has been ticking away in this rock or that. Uranium atoms finally break down to atoms of a special kind of lead. We know that the process has been proved to be more than 10 million years old.

Oldest Rock Not Known

Many rocks of 100 million years have been tested. The atomic clock in a few tested rocks has been ticking away for 2,000 million years. The oldest rock to be tested so far proved to be 2,200 million years old. This ancient rock was found in Manitoba.

Chances are, this old fellow is not the oldest rock in all the world. It tells us only that the earth is a great deal older than two billion years, how much older we can only guess. But we may be quite safe in guessing that the earth has had a solid crust for at least 3,000 million, or three billion years.

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Barry Bates, age 12, of Brockville, Ont., for his question:

Where is the Sargasso Sea?

In your gift atlas you will find the North Sea, the Caribbean Sea, the Mediterranean and many other seas. But you will find no Sargasso Sea.

This is because the Sargasso is not bounded by a shoreline.

It is a watery sea within a watery ocean. Old time sailors set it apart because it was a region of dreaded calms, where masses of sargassum seaweed choked the water.

Instead of shorelines, the Sargasso Sea is bounded by strong ocean currents. The Gulf Stream and the North Equatorial Current sweep around the North Atlantic in a vast circling eddy. This strong eddy of ocean currents creates a central area of calm.

The calm, weed-choked area in the middle of the North Atlantic Ocean is known to sailors as the Sargasso Sea.

200 Victorians See My Fair Lady

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

"My Fair Lady" pulled off the impossible at its premiere in Vancouver, Monday.

For a few fleeting moments it succeeded in making the broad, curvaceous foyers of the beautiful new Queen Elizabeth Theatre look like dear old Victoria.

Everywhere were beaming Victoria faces eclipsing Vanouverites two to one—or so it seemed.

Actually about 200 Victorians travelled to the mainland to see the famous show. May-be near-starvation in the capital city induced that extra glisten in Victoria eyes that momentarily dimmed out the Vancouver majority.

Reputation of this all-time great musical show may have established some sort of record for Islanders attending a single theatrical attraction in Vancouver.

Reservations at the box office indicate between three and four thousand going from all parts of the Island during the two-week run, nearly half the number being from Greater Victoria.

LOCAL BRIEFS

The Canadian National Railway Veterans' Association will meet Friday at 2 p.m. in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Cormorant Street.

H. R. Wilkinson will speak on building of the Hudson Bay railway.

Provincial government offices will be closed Monday in observance of the Labor Day holiday. The museum will open 9 a.m. to noon and 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Surface and anti-aircraft firing practice will be conducted between Otter Point and Magdalena Point, Strait of Juan de Fuca, by HMCS Ottawa between 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. today and Thursday.

BREAKS TOE — While walking on a Hollywood movie set singer-actor Pat Boone thought a rock didn't look real. He kicked it with his bare foot and today is nursing a broken toe.

Hundreds Flee Fire

BARBADOS — British West Indies (AP) — Flames swept Castries, capital of the British island colony of St. Lucia, and forced hundreds to flee the town Sunday night. The fire finally was brought under control Monday.

(A) "THE FIVE PENNIES"

(Royal) — Thanks to the wondrous talents of Danny Kaye, the sure acting of Barbara Bel Geddes, the "real gone" trumpet of Louis Armstrong and the nostalgic blare of Red Nichols' cornet, Paramount's "The Five Pennies" rises safely above the soap opera class that it was headed for without the combined efforts of those mentioned.

The story of "The Five Pennies," of course, is the story of musician and band leader Red Nichols, whose name was a byword for toe-tapping music to dance in the 1920's and early 30's. According to the plot taken from a story by Robert Smith, the Nichols' child developed polio and Red made a promise that if the girl recovered he would give up his music. She did and in the war years he sought anonymity in the nation's shipyards.

UNFORTUNATELY, after bearing up bravely for most of its 117 minutes' running time, producer Jack Rose and director Melville Shavelson allowed the denouement to become bathed in bathos with all the expected ingredients, the little girl grown-up who asks her father for a dance, the last-minute saving of Nichols' comeback by the appearance of Sachmo, and so on.

Fortunately, however, one remembers most the sweet music of the behind-the-scenes Nichols, the clam-bake between Kaye and Armstrong, the sound efforts of Susan Gordon as the baby Nichols and of Tuesday Weld as the teenager Nori, can one forget Miss Geddes, who appears as a most believable "wife."

And once again rising above all, is Kaye himself, clown, serious actor, dancer, pantomimist, singer—a jack-of-all-trades and master of all.

London's great clock of Westminster, Big Ben, made its radio debut New Year's Eve, 1923, and regular broadcasting began soon afterwards.

City public works committee

Tuesday gave its blessing to an offset centre line between Humboldt and Cormorant so that one extra traffic lane could be created.

Traffic engineer Norman Wamsley said shifting the painted line three feet would create four nine-foot-wide traffic lanes and one parking lane for rush-hour traffic.

The nine-foot lanes would be the narrowest ever tried in Victoria but he said they would be adequate for careful drivers. Vancouver has eight-foot-wide lanes on many downtown streets.

Ald. Elmer McEwen said the offset centre line on Fort was a mistake because "hundreds of drivers straddle the centre line. People know where the centre of the street is and they expect the line to be there."

Mr. Wamsley said the only alternative to an offset centre line is street widening.

Committee chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgerton said motorists were learning to use Fort Street properly and they would have to be educated to observing centre lines or congestion will increase.

SINGER LATE FOR SHOW AS WEDDING BELLS RING

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Singer-actress Jane Morgan showed up 30 minutes late Tuesday for her performance in "Bells Are Ringing" — but she had a good excuse, a husband. Miss Morgan said she was married earlier in the day to Lawrence Stith, a singer and composer.

BUSY STREET GETTING NAME AS DIRTIEST

NANAIMO — Ald. William William McGregor told city council Monday night that Commercial Street, main business street here, is becoming the dirtiest in the city.

He blamed merchants who swept litter from the sidewalk in front of their stores into the street after the mechanical sweeper had passed.

Outdoor Clubbers To Explore Park

In Washington

Members of the Victoria Outdoor Club plan to "go abroad" this Labor Day weekend, instead of their usual exploring and hiking to little known beauty spots on Vancouver Island.

A total of 35 members, men and women, equipped with packacks and food for a three-day trip, will explore the Olympic National Park in Washington.

They will leave by boat for Port Angeles Saturday morning and will camp at Sol Duc Hot Springs, before proceeding along a mountain trail which will take them to Bogachiel Mountain.

Bill Burroughs, chairman of the club's outing committee, will be in charge of the party.

Weekend club activities also include a walk to the summit of Mount Finlayson, Goldstream Park, for members who want a day's outing without benefit of packack and tent.

The group will meet at Veterans' Stages, Sunday, at 9:45 a.m., before proceeding to the park.

The club, which sponsors outdoor outings, also plans to hold a series of hikes and walks throughout the fall.

FOR KEEPS $5,000 Commission To Stand

A claim for $5,000, said to have been paid as commission on the contemplated 1957 sale of Victoria's Churchill Hotel, was dismissed this week in B.C. Supreme Court here.

The money was alleged to have been deposited with the agents, W. E. Sherlock Co. Ltd., when the hotel was put up for sale for $275,000.

After the deal fell through, Victoria Hotel Co. Ltd., 530 Bastion, representing Churchill Hotel, sought return of the $5,000 commission.

The agents refused, claiming the money was owed them and that it had been "earned."

Along with return of the $5,000, Victoria Hotel Co. also claimed 5 per cent interest on the sum, and costs.

The majority of the 275,000 reservation Indians in the U.S. live in the southwest and tend to migrate to west coast cities.

Cars Hit Guy Wires In Freak Accidents

Two cars were overturned in nearly identical accidents within two hours Monday in Victoria.

In the first, at 3:40 p.m. at Gorge and Washington, William Bennett, 19, of 1038 Hillside, received hand and wrist cuts and was admitted for treatment at Jubilee Hospital. Police said the driver, a 15-year-old juvenile boy whose name is withheld, drove east on Gorge intending to turn north on Washington when the car struck a curb then ran up a power pole guy wire which flipped it over causing heavy damage.

There was no injury and light damage when a car driven by William E. Judge, Toronto, went west on Esquimalt, swerved to miss another car at Catherine, struck a curb and guy wire and rolled onto its side at 5:25 p.m.

Thomas Black, 15, of 887 Brett, was treated for head cuts, and bruises at Jubilee Hospital after a bicycle upon which he was a passenger was in collision with a car driven by Richard Jackson, 2630 Quadra, at Fifth and Topaz at 4:25 p.m. Monday.

Police said the bike was ridden by Allan Watt, 45, Regina, who was not hurt. Black rode on the crossbar.

NO APOLOGIES ON HIGHWAY CHARGES

Gaglardi Peeved at Press Says CCF Gets Preference

The CCF "seems to have the ear of the press," Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi said Tuesday.

The minister's statement, delivered at a special press conference in his office late Tuesday, was his answer to suggestions by Opposition Leader Robert Strachan last week that there is patronage in the granting of work contracts on B.C. highway developments.

Mr. Gaglardi was as upset with the press for printing the charges as he was with the charges themselves.

SECOND ATTACK

He had been attacked from another section as well, following public outcries after Motor Vehicle Superintendent George Lindsay's assertion that rising highway death totals were related to the new 60 miles per hour speed limit.

The minister continually thumbed through a pile of newspaper clippings as he blamed the press for playing up the attacks on him and giving less intensive coverage to items vindicating him.

He said a Vancouver newspaper had printed an apology to former B.C. Power Commission general manager H. Lee Briggs. (This was subsequent to a speech by Premier Bennett in Courtenay August 18 which made it appear Mr. Briggs was to blame for commission difficulties. Later the Shrum Royal Commission report, which the premier was commenting on prior to its publication, praised Mr. Briggs's work.)

"But there was no apology to me," Mr. Gaglardi said. "He had been attacked editorially in Vancouver after the 1958 collapse of the Second Narrows Bridge. Later a royal commission cleared his department of any blame."

The club, which sponsors outdoor outings, also plans to hold a series of hikes and walks throughout the fall.

EATON'S

Around
the Store

Strolling around EATON'S can be as fascinating as a trip through an Oriental bazaar—with sundry advantages, such as lack of flies, absence of throat catching odours, and security both for your person and your purchases. Where else, may we rhetorically demand, would you come across an art exhibit, a ripsnorting bargain sale, the latest in fashions, just the gift for your favourite aunt, a demonstration of a really wash-and-wear shirt, and an organist playing sweet and low, all within five minutes? Whether or not you plan to buy something, a trip through EATON'S is always an experience—as our own wandering of today will show.

Starting with the Douglas Street Windows, always a focal point for Victorians, it would appear to your roving reporter that fashions this Fall will be feminine. For those who can remember some of the fashions of the twenties, that's not as silly a remark as it seems! The card in the window states "First Flashes of Fall Fashions," and a short stroll to the second floor confirmed our thinking. This Fall, there's no need to flinch when you parade your latest purchase for friend husband—he'll be delighted—in fact, you can with safety bring him down to shop with you!

Hopping on the escalator from second to third floor, we ran smack into the Fall Fabric Sale. In our experience, there are sales, sales and SALES, and EATON'S Fabric Sales are SALES. A glance at some of the yardage on display showed why the smartest seamstresses of Victoria were busily making their selections for Fall. All-wool tweed at 2.99 a yard is not to be found every day—the tweed is to be found, all right, but the price is usually 4.50! This is just one example of the values—and since said sale continues Thursday (see the advertisement overleaf) you still have a chance at the values.

Up one, on the fourth floor, you'll find an exhibition of watercolours by Owen Goward. Mr. Goward is a Victorian, an engineer by profession but a painter by avocation, and a member of the Oregon Society of Artists. His profession takes him to many parts of our province, and on the walls of the Victoria Room you see the record of his travels. Naturally, we looked for Victoria landscapes, and were rewarded with one of our favourite views—the houses climbing up the hillside at Shoal Bay. There's a view of Vancouver's two bridges from Burnaby Mountain, which you really should see, and many other fine paintings, especially of the Okanagan.

Stepping off the escalator at the Main Floor, we saw from the activity at various counters that the Family Drug Sale (Oops—SALE) was still in full swing. You know, alas, too well, how soon Fall will be here, and tonics, vitamins, and various remedies will clutter up the breakfast table again. The pain of pill-taking can be somewhat softened by the knowledge that you're saving 20% on every swallow—so why not buy now, because that's just the saving you'll make.

A trip across to the House Furnishings Building brought us to the Ticket Booth and Information Centre, right next to the Record Bar. Most frequent question asked by visitors—"Where is the China Department?" China is obviously a very popular souvenir or "take-home" gift, and one look at the wonderful displays in the China Department (Government at View, in case you're asking the same question!) will show you why. Delicate bone china cups and saucers, exquisite Royal Doulton figurines, or charming Hummel children, are just a few of the attractive pieces you'll see there.

The Ticket Booth part of the business is in summer doldrums, but you can buy your ticket to "Look Back in Anger" the "angry young man" play by John Osborne. This is a production of the Intimate Stage group, and promises to be a smash hit. Flora Nicholson directs, and the cast includes Daphne Legge-Willis, Margot Thomson, John Gilliland, Tony Nicholson and Evan Jones, so you can be sure that you'll get a full share of entertainment for your dollar. Oh, the dates—Sept. 10, 11, 12, at the Art Gallery.

Always suggestible, we next felt the urge to "Follow the Red Arrows" and inevitably ended up at the School Supply Section on the lower main floor. Here we fell to sighing for our own lost youth. Why, when we were young, you had to pick up your school supplies bit by bit, and it took all the time you had. Not any more—the kids of today just dash in to EATON'S, grab a package containing all the supplies for their grade, and dash right out again. This leaves a chunk of spare time on Tuesday, September 8th, for the smart schoolgoers who are doing their buying right now!

Fashion Takes to Shape with New Elegance

fur influences fall fashion

Expect a wonderful reception in your new furred autumn ensemble. Suits cut as carefully as a craftsman cuts a precious jewel...designed with a new brilliance and feminine elegance. Fabrics are superb, subtly soft—shaggy or smooth in a knowing mixture of glowing gem-tone or smoked autumn hues.

OTTAWA—The Progressive Conservatives' upset sweep in Prince Edward Island's general election was regarded today as a great victory for Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

The results reaffirmed the Conservatives' popularity in the Maritimes where public opinion polls had shown waning support earlier this year.

The victory also made up for the loss the Conservatives suffered in the Aug. 20 Newfoundland election which Premier Joseph Smallwood had called over the province's squabble with the federal government. Smallwood now heads the only Liberal government in Canada.

The impact of the prime minister on the provincial result was given added weight because premier-elect Walter Shaw, a 71-year-old retired civil servant, had been unable to get elected in the 1955 general election.

NOT UNEXPECTED

The victory was not unexpected by the federal Conservatives. Reports reaching national Conservative headquarters during the week led officials to quietly predict the fall of the Liberals after 24 years in office.

The building of a causeway linking Prince Edward Island to the mainland was credited with playing a major role in Tuesday night's upset.

The provincial Conservatives had billed themselves as "the party of the Causeway" pledged to fight for the link-up. The federal government has received a feasibility report on the project, although it hasn't committed itself to any construction.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today he could not comment on the landslide Conservative victory.

"But that doesn't prevent me from congratulating Mr. (Walter) Shaw, and those associated with him," he added.

Deutsch Report Proposes 20c Boost in 2 Years

A new formula aimed at settling the 8½-week-old coast logging strike was made public today, but first reaction left doubts as to whether it would result in an agreement.

The developments, in capsule, were:

1. Report of government mediator Dr. John Deutsch after two weeks of discussions with the union and operators proposed that the $1.72 basic wage of the loggers be increased 20 cents an hour over two years.

This is eight cents more than the companies had agreed to pay, but less than the 12 per cent (21 cents) the International Woodworkers of America asked for in one year.

NOT "JUSTIFIABLE"

2. First reaction by employers' leader John Billings, president of Forest Industrial Relations, was that the proposed 20 cents boost over two years was "higher than the industry could consider justifiable," but that the proposal would be submitted to the FIR individual companies.

3. Union chief Joe Morris was non-committal in a short statement issued shortly after the Deutsch report was made public, but will similarly submit the new formula to IWA members through the union policy committee.

Dr. Deutsch suggested the first 10 cents increase be made effective June 15 this year, with a further 10-cent boost June 15, 1960.

TRADESMEN'S BOOST

He also recommended a further increase of 10 cents an hour to all journeymen tradesmen, effective June 15. He urged "immediate implementation" in the plywood industry of the job evaluation program worked out June 22, 1955.

He also called for the establishment on a trial basis of a joint committee representing both union and management to determine wage rates for new jobs and to determine whether wage adjustments are indicated where it is found that "significant changes have been made in the nature of existing jobs."

On the pay issue, Dr. Deutsch said, "In making my recommendations concerning wages, I have given most careful consideration to both the economic circumstances of the industry and the existing level of wages of the workers in relation to these circumstances, and in relation to the movement of wages generally in the province."

Phone Tip Leads Police to Body

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police, following a telephone tip from a man apparently involved in a killing, today found the dead body of a 69-year-old watchman at a storage warehouse near a safe that had been blown open.

Police said Alto Vaino (Oly) Alto of Suburban Burnaby was obviously murdered but added they were unable to find any signs of violence on the body.

They said the body was discovered at the Johnson National Storage warehouse after an anonymous telephone caller said: "There is a watchman who needs help at Johnson's."

When they arrived they found Alto, described by a fellow employee as "just a nice old guy," lying dead on the floor of the drivers' check-in room. His hands were tied behind his back.

Police said the exact cause of death will not be known until an autopsy is held.

The door of the office safe had been blown open but the inner door was still intact. It was not known whether the men got any money from the office.

Police said Alto is believed to have been killed between 11:30 p.m. and 2:30 a.m. The telephone call was received at 3 a.m.

The telephone call was traced to a phone booth not far from the warehouse. Police dogs were taken to the scene of the killing but were unable to pick up any trail.

MONTREAL (CP)—Provincial police today questioned a man in connection with the theft of 75,000 doses of Salk anti-polio vaccine from a suburban University of Montreal research laboratory.

Leopold Trottier, assistant director of the Quebec police, said a break in the $50,000 police robbery might come later today.

Asked if a black market in the Salk vaccine exists in this polio-stricken province, Mr. Trottier said:

TALKS TO 'MELT ICE OF COLD WAR'—MOSCOW

LONDON (Reuters)—Moscow Radio said today that the London talks between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan gave every reason to believe that "they do realize the main thing—the need to ensure world peace."

"There are already real grounds for assuming that the Khrushchev-Eisenhower exchange of visits . . . will melt the ice of the cold war," the broadcast said.

Nehru Retains Defence Leaders

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today that India's defence command is continuing unchanged despite a rift between Defence Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and Lt.-Gen. K. S. Thimayya, the army commander.

Nehru said Thimayya resigned Monday in a dispute over the promotion of an army officer but had withdrawn his resignation at the prime minister's request.

The prime minister gave full backing to Krishna Menon, long one of his closest advisers on foreign policy. He said the defence minister's position was sound and justified and praised him for his "great energy and enthusiasm."

"Civil authority must remain supreme," Nehru declared.

This appeared to put at rest reports that Krishna Menon would be removed from the cabinet or shifted to another office.

Nehru gave no indication that the defence minister had offered to resign, as high sources in the congress party had reported.

Nehru called Thimayya a gallant soldier but rebuked him for resigning at a time when India's borders were in a state of anxiety.

The prime minister made no mention of the commanders of the air force and navy, who had been reported resigning with Thimayya.

The newspaper The Statesman reported meanwhile that the situation on the northeast frontier appeared to have eased and said the Chinese possibly had moved away from border outposts they captured last week.

But tonight the citizens cast all reserve to the winds and handed Eisenhower an overwhelming, spine-tingling welcome.

Eisenhower promptly plunged into cold war talk with de Gaulle and their first session was described as "good and encouraging."

President press secretary James C. Hagerty said the two leaders were so pleased with their initial meeting that they decided to extend their talks by at least one hour Thursday.

Hagerty said it was "reasonable to assume" the two leaders began preliminary discussions about Algeria and NATO—two of the most ticklish subjects facing them.

Police Question Suspect In Polio Vaccine Theft

MONTREAL (CP)—Provincial police today questioned a man in connection with the theft of 75,000 doses of Salk anti-polio vaccine from a suburban University of Montreal research laboratory.

The drugstore owner and three employees were questioned by police Tuesday but were not detained.

Provincial police worked around the clock in an effort to break the strange case of the pilfered polio shots. They sought clues to four armed and masked men who smashed a refrigerator in the institute of microbiology and hygiene in suburban Laval des Rapides research laboratory.

Leopold Trottier, assistant director of the Quebec police, said a break in the $50,000 polio robbery might come later today.

Asked if a black market in the Salk vaccine exists in this polio-stricken province, Mr. Trottier said:

intended would be fair and reasonable to both the workers and the companies."

Mr. Billings said, "We now have a situation in which two prominent educators of the University of B.C. have made two quite different proposals."

The industry accepted the recommendation of the conciliation board chaired by Dean Curtis and offered 12 cents per hour increase over two years, with six cents extra for journeymen.

"Dr. Deutsch's recommendation appears to be influenced almost wholly by a pattern of sharp wage increases obtained recently in non-export and service industries of the province."

MARKET WEAKER

"It ignores greatly deteriorated lumber market conditions which have taken place in the last few weeks despite the cessation of production in the coast area."

"We are only too well aware of the spread that has developed between strike-combined high wage settlements in certain sheltered industries, and wage rates in the exporting primary industries."

"If the wage increases forced on industries and services that can pass these extra costs along to consumers were to be adopted by the export industries, B.C. would quickly suffer the disaster of lost export markets."

"Dr. Deutsch's proposal will be considered by the membership of F.I.R."

Joe Morris' statement said simply, "At this time we are not prepared to comment on the conclusions contained in the report."

The report will be submitted to the policy committee of the union at the earliest opportunity for discussion and decision. When a decision is arrived at, the report and the committee's recommendation will be submitted to the membership in accordance with the usual practices of the organization."

TIME TO END IT

Premier Bennett, in Che-mainus, merely said, "Now it is high time for the industry and the IWA to get back to work."

Strike by 26,660 coast loggers began July 6 after 125 lumber companies rejected the IWA demands for a 20 per cent boost. The union lowered the demand to 12 per cent on the eve of the walkout, but failed to prevent a shutdown.

In other contract recommendation, Dr. Deutsch suggested provision be inserted in the master agreement providing for the company to try to avoid unnecessary delay in transporting men from designated marshalling points to places of work and return. He suggested also that the agreement be amended to make it clear that the majority of voting employees in the bargaining unit shall make the decision on swing-shift procedure.

PRINCIPLES SET OUT

He recommended, too, that where the local union holds a certificate of bargaining authority covering a large area in which the company has two or more distinct logging operations, and distance makes the application of seniority impractical, the parties agree that the following principles shall prevail:

1. That there shall be separate seniority in each operation.

2. In the event of camp closures or layoffs, other than normal seasonal shutdowns, the company will give preference to the employees affected when hiring for openings occurring in other operations covered by certification and agreement.

3. The detailed application of these principles to be worked out between the company and the local union.

Labour Minister Lyle Wicks declined comment on the report, except to say he had had it fewer than 24 hours. He said it had been studied by the B.C. cabinet Tuesday afternoon.

The minister said the "next step is in the hands of the parties concerned."

EISENHOWER

Premier Antonio Segni and Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella will fly to Paris from Rome tonight for a conference with Eisenhower.

SOVIET POLICE AGENT CHECKING NIK'S TOUR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A high official of Russia's secret police, Maj.-Gen. Nikolai S. Zacharoff, is now in the United States checking security arrangements for the visit of Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Official sources said today that Zacharoff and an aide are visiting the cities where Khrushchev will stop and are checking the routes along which he will travel during his 12-day tour beginning Sept. 15. Zacharoff is head of a division of the KGB, the Secret Russian Police Organization. His division is charged with protection of top Soviet officials.

... P.E.I.

"What about the Causeway now?" a reporter asked bluntly.

The prime minister replied that "a most comprehensive examination" was being made of the many factors involved in the proposed construction of a causeway.

In a statement issued Tuesday night from the office of Liberal leader Lester Pearson, the national Liberal party said it regrets the Conservative sweep.

But Prince Edward Island Liberals can take comfort in the fact that the popular vote was virtually even, it said, adding that the election was fought "entirely on local and provincial issues in contrast with the recent Newfoundland campaign which resulted in a Liberal victory."

The statement was issued in the absence of Mr. Pearson, who returns Thursday from a visit to Britain.

Meanwhile in Charlottetown, Conservative leader Walter Shaw promised that his new government would work closely with the federal government and would do everything possible to start the construction of the long-mooted causeway.

The Tory leader said that his party had had a wonderful group of candidates, and would be able to form a strong government.

POLIO THEFT

Detectives said they were questioning the man about the possibility that he had failed to deliver to the free clinics all the vaccine he got from the institute.

STORE SEIZED VACCINE

Meanwhile, the 2,000 shots of Salk vaccine seized from the Pont Vieux druggist were being held in a special cooler at provincial police headquarters.

The druggist said he bought it from a wholesaler he did not know, but whose credentials were in order.

The vaccine in police hands has the same serial numbers, 119-1 and 119-3, as that stolen in the raid.

It could be part of the same manufactured batch which went out on the general market, police said.

Bills for Royal Visit Sky-High

Bills totalling almost $6,000 for civic events during the Royal Tour stunned city finance committee Tuesday. The expenses were run up in connection with the July 16-18 visit here by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

"Why, that's 2½ to three times what originally was thought would be spent," exclaimed Ald. Arthur Dowell. City comptroller Dennis Young was instructed to prepare a detailed report for presentation to the intermunicipal committee.

Informed at the meeting of several bills he had not heard about, Mr. Young said, more may come in for all he knew.

The civic Royal tour committee, headed by Ald. A. I. Curtis, had not supplied him with a complete statement of all the work it had ordered for the visit.

Illuminated Address Questioned

Noting the $640 cost, Ald. Dowell wondered whether the tradition of presenting illuminated addresses to royalty was sensible in view of what happened to Victoria's address.

City clerk Frank Hunter told the committee he found the civic address, in its Morocco leather covering, tossed carelessly in the back seat of an empty car of the royal entourage. The windows were open and anyone could have taken it.

Mr. Hunter said the document was crumpled because the sun's rays had been melting the wax seal on the document.

He added that efforts to find the official responsible "so I could give him a good talking to" had been unsuccessful but he had found the car's driver and made him put the address in the car's locked trunk.

Cap'n Finds Work For Idle Hands

By MICHAEL ROSE

Crews of the strike-bound British freighter Cape York are not too unhappy about being "marooned" at Victoria's Ogden Point docks while waiting for a cargo.

"They have all got their own friends here," said Alexander M. Fraser, master of the ship, "and they like it here."

Captain Fraser admitted, however, that some people, notably the vessel's owners, Lyle Line, would not be too pleased. "It's not putting money into anyone's pocket," he said.

LONG TIME IDLE

Winners of the weekly Victoria Bridge Club tournament were: Section A, Lee Stewart and Tony Marsh; Laura Tingley and Joan Williams; Elizabeth Seddon and Walter Allen; Marge and George Beale; Neil Williamson and Edith Bold; Pat Fishop and Marion Powell.

Section B, Ethel Cleworth and George Morgan; Bill Simpson-Baikie and Harry Brown; Joe Lukas and Bert Jorgenson; Irene Abels and Fred Hallett; Quin Lewis and Gordon Hallam, and Dot Hill and Rikki Nikkels.

WORKED D-DAY

The 38-year-old skipper is making his first trip in the four-year-old ship and has held a master's ticket for nearly eight years.

A master at 30 is a far cry from the situation before the war and Captain Fraser said that he would not have done it if he hadn't been "lucky enough to come out of the fighting when so many older fighters didn't."

His wartime service was with the line working the Mediterranean routes and finally participating in the D-Day invasions.

As he talked several crewmen passed whistling and he smiled, saying "they certainly would like to be on their way home, but there are worse places to be tied up."

The board was announced as an advisory body to guide government power and energy planning.

The premier said the new energy board, headed by Dr. Gordon Shrum, will meet primarily to consider the field of power production and isolate major problems.

UP-TO ADVISERS

The premier could not say what the first field of activity would be. This will be left to the advisers, who are all excellent men, he said.

Premier Bennett said he was pleased to hear Minister of Northern Affairs Hamilton state, as reported Tuesday, that the Wenner-Gren development was a "very fine" thing.

DOGFIGHTS BY 'COPTERS IN WAR OF THE FUTURE

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Helicopters will stage dogfights in future wars just like fighter planes did in past conflicts, an army aviation leader said Tuesday.

Brig.-Gen. Ernest F. Easterbrook, commander of the Army Aviation Centre at Fort Rucker, Ala., told the army-navy instrumentation symposium here helicopters will be used increasingly because of their ability to fly low enough to escape radar detection.
